All solid fuel burning appliances must be installed into an approved chimney, except where manufacturer's specifications allow otherwise. The vent connector pipe(single wall) must have a minimum of 18" clearance to combustibles. Some double-wall connector pipe may be used to reduce the clearance (Check manufacturer's specifications).

All new manufactured metal chimney systems must have 2" clearance to combustibles and must have a height of 2' higher than the roof ridge. If the chimney is located further than 10' from the ridge, it must be at least 3' higher than the penetration through the roof and 2' higher than the horizontal line of roof intersection.(See Diagram)

All solid fuel burning appliances with label and installation instructions showing proper clearances to combustibles must be installed according to manufacturer's specifications. Please have these available for review by the building inspector.

In the absence of this documentation, the stove must be installed according to the following table:

Used Solid Fuel Burning Appliances

	Top	Front	Back	Sides
Clearance to combustibles	36"	36"	36"	36"
Clearance to non-combustible wall protection with 1" air space			18"	18"
Concrete/masonry			6"	6"
Non-combustible floor protection (With appropriate R value. Call Building Official when in doubt)		18"	12"	12"
